Biography

Smooth soft rock and alternative sounds, combined with a touch of American Nashville sounds.

Flaming Fenix is an extraordinary band that skillfully combines different genres and delights their fans with their unique style over and over again.

Through a successful combination of guitar, bass and drums, paired with the voices of the singers Markus and Sarah, an unmistakable harmony is created, which creates a unique soundscape in perfect harmony with each other. In addition, the exclusively self-written lyrics, which trigger a firework of emotions in the listeners.

With their touching and honest music, the five artists Markus, Sarah, Constantin, Pascal and Stefan have been playing their way into the hearts of their listeners for 10 years with their genre "Backyard Rock" and pursue a common goal: They want to get out of the small villages of beautiful Bavaria and onto the big stages.
