Biography

Smooth soft rock and alternative sounds, combined with a touch of American Nashville style – that’s Flaming Fenix. The band masterfully blends different genres and has been captivating audiences with its unique style for over a decade.

The five musicians – Markus, Sarah, Constantin, Pascal, and Stefan – create an unmistakable harmony with guitar, bass, drums, and their multi-voiced vocals. Their self-written songs are full of emotion, telling stories of love, loss, hope, and new beginnings – honest, unfiltered, and straight from life.

In their hometown of Ingolstadt, they have long secured a firm place in the music scene, and their reputation extends beyond the region. With their “Backyard Rock” sound, they have built a loyal fan base and are now taking the next step.

With their brand-new album “Shameless” in tow, Flaming Fenix is hitting the road again, bringing their music exactly where it belongs – directly to the fans. Musically evolved and more diverse than ever, they remain true to their roots.
